Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE Three MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 (a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

2. Claims 1, 2, 5-7 and 10 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nakanishi et al. (6,337,953).

Nakanishi discloses a flash unit comprising a bracket [46] a reflecting member [43], two fixed and flexible members [462] formed on the bracket and a flash emission tube [41].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103© and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 3 and 8 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakanishi et al.

Nakanishi discloses the claimed invention but does not disclose the bracket and fixed members are made of plastic. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the bracket and fixed members of plastic since plastic is known to be strong, flexible, inexpensive and have other desirable thermal and electrically insulating properties. It has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice.

Response to Amendment

5. Applicants argument filed 5/6/03 has been fully considered but has not been found persuasive. Applicant has argued "Nakanishi fails to teach the fixed member(s) are integrally formed on the bracket". Applicant then asserts "the comb-like holder portions 462 are detachably connected to the transmission plate 461" (emphasis added). However, applicant fails to provide a citation for the last assertion and the examiner could not find such a statement in the patent of Nakanishi. Applicant should provide a citation with column and line numbers for the examiner. Nakanishi does not show, in figure 4 or any of the other figures, the bracket [46] connected to the fixed member [462] using a bolt, screw or any other type of fastener. Therefore it is assumed they are integrally formed.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 4, 9 and 11-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Prior art fails to show or suggest a flash unit comprising a bracket, a reflecting member, two fixed and flexible members formed on the bracket and a flash emission tube wherein the tube is installed by bending the fixed members and fixed on the bracket by elastic force.

Art Unit: 2875

Prior art fails to show or suggest a flash unit comprising a bracket, a reflecting member, two fixed and flexible members formed on the bracket and a flash emission tube wherein one end of the tube is received in the receiving portion and the other is fixed on the bracket by the fixed members.

Prior art fails to show or suggest a flash unit comprising a bracket, a reflecting member, two fixed and flexible members formed on the bracket and a flash emission tube wherein one end of the tube is mounted inside the bracket by clamping of the holders.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
